

HENRY SCHMITGES, M.S.

SENIOR CONSULTANT

A senior consultant with Key2Ed, facilitating both in person and virtual professional development opportunities. As a teacher and professional developer, he has utilized the science of facilitation to work towards positive, student focused outcomes. As a coach, he has supported educators in both the art and science of facilitation to encourage confidence in the utilization of the tools and techniques across settings.

Resides in Florida

As a special educator for over 20 years, Henry knows every child has a unique brilliance waiting to shine. In special education his mission is to uncover that brilliance, nurture it, and empower every student to reach their fullest potential.

“Mr. Schmitges was knowledgeable and helpful while facilitating the sessions. He provided multiple examples and simulations to help with clarity.” -S.B, Florida
